ARAL

COMPANY PROFILE

ARAL is a leader in the fields of general contracting, project management, inspection and procurement services, focused on the oil, gas, and petrochemical industries in the Middle East offshore and onshore fields with special emphasis in emerging markets.

Based on its financial strength, experienced manpower, technical know-how of management, engineering, procurement, construction, transportation, installation, commissioning and start-up of offshore and onshore projects and with the collaboration of its associated companies, ARAL offers a comprehensive range of services.

These services are in the form of EPCI, MC, GC and ManPower Supply and aims to consolidate a position in Middle East market by strengthening its technical and project management base.

PROCUREMENT SERVICES

In the center of the oil and gas potential of ARAL Company, groups of various specialties located in order to supply standard products from reputable manufacturers operate from internal and external sources.

The company has branches in several countries including the United Arab Emirates (UAE), Canada, China, the Netherlands, and Spain and specialize in supplying items like turbines, compressors, various types of valves, pipe fittings, alloy panels and many others.

QUALITY ASSURANCE

Our customers need to know that the products they use will function properly in potentially dangerous environments for the long term. A proven quality program is critical to their operational success when choosing a distribution partner.

TIMELY & RELIABLE DELIVERY

Downtime for our customers is extremely costly. A supplier who can deliver material on time, every time is critical.

DEDICATION TO SAFETY

Our customers often operate in potentially hazardous situations. A strong safety culture within their supplier base is paramount to protect people and preserve assets.
